Rock Construction is nearing completion of renovations and tenant finish remodels at 930 W. Douglas in Wichita, Kansas. In May 2018, NAIMARTENS announced the start of a full historic renovation to convert the 12,674-sf building into a multi-tenant office and retail development. 3 Ten Studios was selected as the architect and Rock Construction was selected at the General Contractor for the project.

Exterior improvements included a new glass storefront along Walnut to accompany the storefronts along Douglas, masonry work and other detailed exterior work to preserve the character of the historical building, which was built in 1911.

“We love working on historical buildings. Being able to preserve the history of the building and bring it back to its original glory days is something we specialize in,” says Jason Layman, owner of Rock Construction. “Since this project started, we have also been hired by the City of Mulvane to restore the façade of one of their historical buildings on Main Street,” he says.

In addition to the exterior work, Rock Construction remodeled suites for No Coast Salon, Executive Suites, Pointe Guard Management and Leslie’s Coffee Shop. Elizabeth Taylor, co-owner of No Coast Salon, says, “We are seriously so thankful for everyone at Rock Construction. They were friendly and helpful. This was a first for us, so we had a lot of questions. Their crew made sure our questions were answered and we were taken care of. I saw the pride in the work they do. We are beyond happy with the turn out of the salon and would definitely recommend and use them in the future!”

Rock Construction is anticipating completing construction of the final tenant space for Leslie’s Coffee shop by early December.
